Dear Colleagues:

Beth and I are pleased to invite you to the 66th Annual Meeting of the Southern Neurosurgical Society, which will be held March 25–28, 2015 at The Ritz-Carlton Golf Resort in Naples, Florida. As always, we are planning an extensive and exciting scientific program, as well as plenty of time for connection with your colleagues and families.

Dr. Eric Sherburn has planned an interactive program with an emphasis on updates on the advances in treatment of epilepsy, tumors, aneurysms, and complex spine disorders. We will also host a session with an in-depth look at the neurosurgical quality and outcomes database; neurosurgery in the military; and the latest changes in Washington that affect all of us. In addition, Dr. Juan Uribe and Dr. Kevin Cahill have planned a lateral spine workshop on Friday afternoon. We are honored to have Charles L. Branch Jr., MD, as the R. Eustace Semmes Lecturer, and Ralph G. Dacey, Jr., MD, as the William Henry Hudson Lecturer in this year's program, and Dr. Craig Vanderveer will be recognized as the Distinguished Practitioner.

Please find enclosed a program of preliminary course details, as well as instructions for submitting abstracts, completing your registration, and booking your hotel room. We have increased our rooming block from 2014, and are hopeful that most or all of our attendees will be able to take advantage of our tremendous group rates at The Ritz-Carlton Golf Resort in Naples. Note that our meeting takes place during peak season in Naples, so we do advise that you book early, particularly if you plan an extended stay. Finally, please plan your stay to include the elegant closing banquet on Saturday night—an evening of fine dining and lively dancing.

See you in March!

Sincerely,

Dom Coric, MD
SNS PRESIDENT
